SUMMARY

Experienced Product Owner, Team Leader, and Data Software Engineer with 19 years of expertise in software analysis, design, and development, with a strong focus on data-centric systems. I have a DevOps and Agile mindset, matched with a deep appreciation for openness, trust, and collaboration - values that reflect not only in how I lead but also in how I work within teams.

Currently serving as Senior Product Owner, I specialize in designing and evolving scalable data platforms that empower analysts, Machine Learning teams, and developers to access reliable, well-structured data. My technical background allows me to bridge the gap between business and engineering, ensuring that stakeholder needs translate into practical, high-impact solutions.

With hands-on experience in Agile environments (Scrum, Kanban), I manage product roadmaps, prioritize backlogs, and guide teams toward delivering measurable value. I'm passionate about data quality, governance, and modern cloud-based architectures. I'm also a firm believer in continuous improvement and knowledge sharing.

At the heart of my leadership philosophy are two guiding principles:

- You can move mountains with good people – people are the most important.*
- Good leaders help people to grow – they should become better than the leader.*
